Natural Pruning

Presented by

Allen Wilson, Retired Professor of Landscape Horticulture

What do you want your plants to look like after they regrow following pruning? We will discuss and illustrate the principles of natural pruning. The focus will be on what to expect from making different kinds of pruning cuts to preserve the natural shape and density of plants.

After the classroom presentation we will go outside in small groups to practice newly learned principles on plants in the garden. Please dress appropriately for the weather. Bring your hand pruners and if possible loppers and pruning saws that we can share.
