

NatureScaping

Wildlife Botanical Gardens

PO Box 763 Brush Prairie, WA 98606

September 15, 2018

10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Introduction to Backyard Bird Song

Presented by

Brandon Burger, Backyard Bird Shop

What bird is that I hear? Most birds have distinctive songs or calls which can be helpful when trying to identify them. Many birds have specific, colorful, or contrasting markings that make them easy to recognize. Many more however look very similar, or may not like to show themselves in the open very often. As a result, these species can be difficult to distinguish; using their sounds can help.

We will cover some of the more common backyard birds and how to begin learning who they are by ear. Once you determine two or three, learning becomes easier. Discover how to listen for patterns and unique mnemonics. You can even have fun creating some of your own sound associations!

Class Location: CASEE Center, Building B, Room 205
11104 NE 149th Street, Brush Prairie, WA. 98606

Day/Time: Saturday September 15, 2018 10:00 am-noon

Fees: Naturescaping members free or $15.00 for non-members.
Membership per year is $20.00 ($15.00) for seniors.

Register for classes or for more information:
info@naturescaping.org or marlene52ns@gmail.com

Phone: 360-737-1160